

LATTéLAND INTRODUCES THREE NEW TEA LATTES

KANSAS CITY, MO, OCTOBER 20, 2004 – On Thursday, October 21, 2004, LATTéLAND Espresso & Tea will introduce three new proprietary tea lattes, Double Vanilla, Passion Fruit and Mint Green Tea Mocha. In addition LATTéLAND will also introduce 13 new branded whole leaf teas, available as an in store beverage or in 3-4 ounce tins of tea in order to enjoy at home or work.

The three new tea lattes will be a solid addition to our Chai Latte product, which is a great alternative beverage for non-coffee drinkers. All of the tea lattes will be made from scratch using our LATTéLAND branded whole leaf tea.

The Double Vanilla tea latte is made using a blend of black teas from Ceylon (Sri Lanka) and Nilgiri (southern India), blended with vanilla bean pieces from Tahiti, and finally prepared in store with a vanilla sweetener and steamed milk. The Passion Fruit tea latte is created using an Organic black tea from Korakundah Estate in Nilgiri blended with dried passion fruit pieces, and mixed in-store with a vanilla sweetener and steamed milk. Finally the Mint Green Tea Mocha is a heavenly beverage made from steeping our Moroccan Mint tea, a Chinese gunpowder green tea blended with fresh mint, with chocolate and steamed milk.

Our new whole leaf teas and tea lattes are extremely high in anti-oxidants and vitamins, which health experts agree help prevent certain forms of cancer, stave off heart disease and improve blood circulation in the body.

“I am excited about our significantly improved tea menu. The variety of tea lattes is something that Kansas Citians will only find at LATTéLAND,” said Edward Schultz, owner of LATTéLAND Espresso & Tea, “As our patrons become more aware of the significant health benefits of tea, our tea lattes will be a luxurious and tasty choice for those who have not historically been tea drinkers”
